Dear Mr. Ogilvy,

I've been kind of busy. Just finished the draft of a sequel to WHITEWASH. Both are more then full time, so I forgot to write you about a breeding pair of Mandarin ducks.

The price is $35.00 for the pair, which is very cheap. I haven't seen them but understand from a friend who shows stock and is good enough to win more prizes than anyone I've ever known that they are of good breeding.

Should you be interested, they are woned by Kenneth Greene, 820 Park Rd. Hagerstown, Md.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
